It isn't raining rain to me,
It's raining forage crops;
In every dimpled drop I see
Alfalfa green as hops.
With pastures green for horses lean,
And rye and wheat for sows,
It isn't raining rain to me,
It's raining food for cows.

Humanity will never reach its ultimate development until it cuts down sleep and food. I consider this the most important conclusion which I have come to during my years of hard and constant effort.—Thomas A. Edison.

KEEP YOUR WIFE ON YOUR PAY-ROLL

In the November American Magazine Frances R. Storratt, writing a story entitled "The Militancy of Evalina," has a character who makes the following comment on the value to a man of a good wife:

"A wife is the best partner a man can have, and she is entitled to a share of his income."

A MOUNTAIN OF BOOKS.

The Frankfort State Journal, which is contractor for that class of printing and binding, printed in its Sunday issue a picture of the uniform accounting books it has just completed. There are 1,110 of them, eight for each county and 150 for the State. The huge heaps look more like a picture of the tall Kentucky river hills than a stack of books.

WAR INTERFERES WITH BILLY.

The report that Billy Sunday will make no speeches in the South this Fall has been doubted by many, but as that section of the country is suffering severe financial stringency through failure to sell the cotton crop, the information is probably authentic as Rev. Mr. Sunday is not just the sort of a reformer who is likely to waste his sweetness on desert air.—Lexington Herald.

"Literature" said the Domestic Science Freshman, "not only charms us with the flow-like unfolding of the beauties of our language, but, if we are discriminating in our taste, furnishes us the means for a ready command of English, and is thus the unfailing storehouse of media for the euphonious expression of our ideas, isn't it?"

TRIBUTE TO THE JEWS

"God Hath Not So Dealt With Any Nation," Says Evangelist Ham in Notable Sermon at Paris Revival

(Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.)

Preaching about the final destiny of the Jew Evangelist Ham announced as his text: "God hath not so dealt with any nation."

"The Jews are the most ancient and the most modern people on the face of the earth," he said. "When D'Israeli, the English statesman was taunted by an English lord because of his Jewish birth he replied: 'Sir, my ancestors were princes and kings in the earth when you were roving savages. You are now proud of your ancient birth but today there runs in the veins of the meanest Jew, blood, compared with which, the blood of the proudest noble man in England is but ditch water.'"

"Though without a flag of his own and scattered among the nations of the earth the Jew has received mercy from none and has been loyal to all. Though persecuted and plundered by nearly every government he never has been found among the Nihilists or Anarchists. This is because the seeds of obedience to law have been planted in him even since Moses received the tablets of law on Sinai."

"America was a hundred years old before a Jew was tried for murder in this country. They are the only people who have not degenerated as a race. Theirs is the purest racial blood in this country today."

"The death rate among them is 7 per 1,000, while among the Gentiles it is 14 per 1,000. Their average life is one-third longer than ours. His life insurance is worth fifty per cent more than ours."

"All this is because he has eaten and lived according to the sanitary laws given to Moses by God Almighty."

"As a race the Jew is God's elect. Whenever God calls a man for any particular mission that man is immortal until that mission is accomplished. It is also so with the nation called of God for special work."

"The work which God has called the Jewish race to consists of... our things: To teach monotheism; that there is but one God; to show the world the beauty and blessedness of obeying and serving God; to be the writers, transmitters and preservers of His divine word; and to give through them a Saviour to the world."

"When Frederick the Great asked his court preacher for an unanswerable proof of the inspiration of the scriptures he answered 'The Jew' my lord the Jew." When Napoleon asked the Archbishop of Milan for the best possible argument for revealed religion he silently pointed to Marshal Massena, a Jew.

"Every event of their history has been foretold and when God restores Palestine, the Holy Land, to Israel, all the world will have to give her glory."

If a man should suddenly be changed to a woman he couldn't get his clothes off.

Five or six years after a man feels the need of glasses he begins to wear them.

There is a Great Difference in Tobaccos

Tuxedo is the Mildest, Sweetest, Most Pleasant Smoke in the World, Because—

First—No one but the makers of Tuxedo is willing to spend the money necessary to buy the mildest, choicest, most thoroughly aged, selected Burley tobacco.

Second—No one but the makers of Tuxedo knows how to treat this Burley tobacco so that every bit of pleasantness and goodness remains in the tobacco and every bit of unpleasantness and harshness is taken out.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo was born in 1904. Its first imitator appeared two years later. Since then a host of imitations have been born, and are clamoring for your patronage.

No imitation is ever as good as the original. No amount of advertising, no amount of bluster and bluff, can ever make an imitation tobacco as good as Tuxedo.

If you are not a pipe smoker, you are denying yourself the greatest smoking pleasure known to man. One week of Tuxedo will give you more enjoyment than you have ever had—and at the end of the week your nerves will be better and your general health will have improved. Try Tuxedo this week!
